Veteran Coaches Guide Tiger Gridders

Wayne McConnell

Fort Hays State coaches Wayne McConnell and Ed McNeil have been coaching together for ten years—five at FHS and five at College of Emporia. At C of E McConnell compiled a 39-12-1 record and was named Little All-American Coach of the Year. He has also coached several years in Kansas high schools, at Effingham, Gaylord, Downs and Manhattan.

McNeil was on the University of North Dakota coaching staff for two years between his C of E stint and his job here. He is a former third-team All-American tackle, an honor he earned while playing at Kansas State.

Three-time Tiger letterman Jim Casper, a senior phys ed major, is serving as student assistant coach this fall. A knee injury ended his playing career in 1959.

CIC Play Begins Next Week

Central Intercollegiate Conference action begins next week, as all six league teams open their official conference schedules.

Each squad will have at least three nonconference games under its belt as the quest for the CIC title begins. Defending champ St. Benedict's and a surprising Omaha U. team will have played three times, while the other four teams will have had four outings.

St. Benedict's, opening against rugged foes, lost its first two games and did not score. One loss was to Hillsdale (Mich.) College, top-ranked NAIA team in the nation this week; the other was to perennial power Southeast Missouri State.

The favorite for the league crown, Pittsburg State, got off to a flying start with three victories and an uncrossed goal line. The Gorillas were ranked as high as sixth in the nation's small colleges this week.

Omaha and Washburn appear to have the best chance to challenge the Ravens and the Gorillas. The OU team surprised by winning two of its first three games, giving the school its best record since 1956. Washburn also won two of the first three, but has been unable to develop an air attack to mix with its fine running game.

Fort Hays State, outgaining each opponent, nevertheless lost two of its first three scraps. Emporia State, in the doldrums in recent years, stayed in with three consecutive losses.

Next week's schedule of opening CIC games:

Omaha at Fort Hays State

Air-Minded Eastern New Mexico Invades Tonight

Tonight's opponent is pass-minded Eastern New Mexico University of Portales, N. Mex. The Greyhounds and the Tigers have identical records going into tonight's contest, each with a single victory and two defeats.

The visitors boast a young but experienced squad with 16 lettermen and several promising transfers on tonight's traveling squad. The Hounds opened their season with three tough opponents, losing to Central Oklahoma (eighth-ranked nationally), 13-6, and to powerful Sul Ross State (Texas), 28-9, before smothering Adams State (Colorado), 32-13, last week.

Fort Hays State topped Kearney State (Nebraska), 24-0, in the opener before losing in close games with Northwest Missouri (17-16) and Colorado College (14-6). The Bengals have outgained their opponents in each game, despite the 1-2 record.

Eastern New Mexico blanked FHS, 25-0, at Portales last fall. It was the first time the two schools had ever tangled on the gridiron. Quarterback Sonny Wiginton and fullback Jerry Blakely led the New Mexicans in that game, and both return to battle the Tigers tonight.

FHS played one of its worst games in years at Portales last year, but Wayne Schumacher and Jerry Brown, who were the Tigers' only effective runners against the Greyhounds last fall, are both back for tonight's action.

Coach Wayne McConnell's Tigers will be without freshman defensive ace Dick Chastain tonight, in all probability. The 212-pound Russell product was sidelined all week with flu and a torn thigh muscle. Brown is slated to move into Chastain's spot as starting defensive end.

End Don Schrock has been slowed during practice sessions by a pulled ligament in his foot. Otherwise, the Tiger squad is in good physical condition for tonight's fray.

ENMU is without letterman tackle Jim West and may not be able to use letterman halfback Norman Nelson because of injuries.

Among the Greyhounds to watch tonight are halfbacks Pete Jaquess and Billy Adams, quarterback Wiginton and fullback Blakely in the backfield; freshman end Burrell Tucker, and chunky veteran Tank Forrester at guard. Wiginton is the star of the Pack. The lanky quarterback holds nearly all the school's passing records and has completed 30 of 50 passes in three games this season.

Jaquess is Wiginton's favorite target, with 13 catches in three games. Blakely serves as the team's punter and one of the top ground gainers, along with Jaquess and Adams. The latter is a sophomore transfer from West Texas State.

Tonight's game is the final non-conference outing for McConnell's charges. They open the CIC season by entertaining a high-flying Omaha University team next Saturday night.

Next Game

The Tigers open their conference schedule next Saturday evening when Omaha University's Indians invade Hays for a 7:30 p.m. contest. The game highlights Fort Hays State's annual Band and Parents' Day festivities. OU has been the surprise of the league this fall, winning two and losing one in non-conference games. The Indians have visions of moving out of the CIC cellar for the first time since they joined the loop in 1959. Each team has won twice in the history of the series.

Wiginton, Strong Among Greyhound Stars

Bob Strong, a 230-pound sophomore from Tucumcari, N. Mex., is one of the heaviest linemen on the visiting ENMU squad. The 6-3 tackle was a member of the Greyhound squad last fall but did not earn a letter. He is 19 years old.

The big man in the Greyhound attack is quarterback Sonny Wiginton, a 6-2 172-pound junior from Woodward, Okla. He nearly rewrote the ENMU record book in the passing department last year, setting new marks in nearly every season and individual game passing category.
